BLOCKX

Founded in 1865 in Belgium by Jacques Blockx I, the BLOCKX brand today is recognized by artists worldwide for the uncompromising quality of its colors. Blockx was a chemist with a passion for pigments who started his own laboratory at the urging of his artist friends who were dismayed that the colors traditionally made in artists' studios were no longer available after being replaced by industrial methods.

True to its origins, BLOCKX maintains its traditional methods and commitment to single-pigment, top-quality products.

One of the most Prestigious Oils Paints in the World

Experience the timeless quality of BLOCKX extra-fine oil paints. Known for their smooth, luminous finish, these colors possess a remarkable texture ideal for both classical and contemporary painting techniques.

BLOCKX maintains its historic commitment to excellence in every tube. These extra-fine oils are crafted primarily from single pigments, ensuring a high color concentration and exceptional vibrancy. Blockx pigments are stone ground slowly to prevent overheating and to preserve purity of color. Numerous controls are followed along the way to create an optimal consistency, allowing for extended blending time and effortless mixing directly on the canvas. The result is dazzling, incomparable color.
